From Pastor Aaron....

One spring in college, I crammed myself into a packed car with fellow music majors on a road trip from the Minneapolis area all the way to Fargo, North Dakota. What was in Fargo, you may ask? A choir directors' conference that culminated in an evening performance by the highly acclaimed group Conspirare. Their conductor, Craig Hella Johnson, had just composed the piece they would perform: Considering Matthew Shepard, a multi-movement operetta/requiem that tells and honors the painful story of Matthew Shepard's death.

Everything about that concert – the staging, the casting, the incredible sounds that ranged from ethereal and effervescent to raw power – touched me in ways that continue to shape how I think about music, yes, but also about our life together as a human community. One of the movements begins with these lyrics:

*We tell each other stories so that we will remember
Try and find the meaning in the living of our days
Always telling stories, wanting to remember
Where and whom we came from
Who we are*

As I've been acclimating to life at Faith Lutheran and in Leavenworth, I've been honored to hear and hold some of your stories. I've also been grateful to share some of mine with you. The sharing of stories is something I want to prioritize as I begin here, so I've set a goal: by the end of this calendar year, I hope to have met with each of you – individually or as family units – to hear some of your stories.

Your stories of Leavenworth, your stories of Faith, and the stories of your heart – your joys and struggles, what keeps you up at night, what makes you hopeful. You are welcome to share as much or as little as you feel comfortable. Since my calendar tends to fill quickly, please be in touch with me so that we can set up a time and make this goal possible.

It's hard to put your finger on it, but there is something so important, so special, about sharing our stories with one another. And I look forward to making new ones with all of you, too.

Peace,
Pastor Aaron

From our president...

The weekend in mid August started out in the usual fashion, hot, dry, ushered in by a cup of strong coffee. I was sipping, savoring, and contemplating tasks done, chores to do, and glimpsing hints of visions unseen ahead of us.

BAM, 72 hours later, due to circumstances not my fault and beyond my control, I found myself to be...

A 70 year old Grandfather, and everything changed, again!

I like snuggling Grandma Dawn, and the coffee is still good and strong, but my perspective has been abruptly rearranged. Anticipation is wonderful, but reality is cataclysmically amazing. A Grandchild indeed, our first. I've worn spectacles for 60 years now, but I still remember the first time I put on glasses and realized that there were individual leaves all the way up to the top of the trees, not just a green blur, and mountains in the distance were really clear and distinct. My point of view and understanding of the visual world changed forever.

So it is with the blessing of a granddaughter. I now see beyond next week, next year, and the next decade into the time span of a new generation. The next 3 score and ten years matter concretely to me. If you are a grandparent, perhaps you know this feeling, but it is fresh for me. My universe has suddenly become boundlessly vast.

What must God feel as he looks at us, holds us, lifts us and supports us?

To all the Grandparents, our Blessings abound.

Karl Kranz, President

Church Council September 2025

Treasurer's Report:

- Contributions remain steady at around $9,000/month which is below budget of $13,000/month. Typically year-end gifts make up most of the difference but prefer not to wait for that. We now have a pastor (rejoice!) and no rent coming in from the Tumwater rental.
- A 2025 housing allowance for Pastor Aaron was passed.

Pastor Aaron's Report:

- Pr. Aaron has met with various groups to develop relationship. He has also gone over the directory with John Schramm and Barbara Rossing in preparation for calling on individuals.
- He wants to focus on the mutual expectations found in our Ministry Site Profile and review them with all.
- At the beginning of each Sunday service, Pastor Aaron would like to start with a welcome and where he has seen the Faith community embody God's love (our mission statement) in the past week and prefers that others take over other type of announcements.
- There are many ideas brewing for adult forums. The first will be a series in Nov/Dec on the ELCA's statement on the climate crisis. Additional forums include the ELCA's Faith and Civic Life.
- He would like to start a Bible study on Wednesday mornings and perhaps a second one at night for working folks. TBA.
- Having received the Listening Teams' review from the Synod, Pastor Aaron has suggested that the council meet for a one-day retreat to dive into the findings. What kind of ministries are vital and needed in Leavenworth right now?
- Pr. Aaron meets each month with an Eco Preacher cohort and Living Well During Climate Change group.
- He is working on ramping up social media as well as creating new liturgies/music, the heart of his ministry.

Property Committee:

- New flooring in the Fellowship Hall, in! Now lighting needs upgrade.
- A plan is posted for a possible pastor's office addition, recommend 13'3" by 12 '. Comments welcome.
- Tumwater parsonage in good shape.
- Dismissed Tumwater sprinkler winterization company and will do it ourselves.
- LED lights in sanctuary do not dim. Tossing around ideas for dimming.

Earth Stewardship Committee:

- Would like to extend a Low E challenge to other congregations. Documentary Living with Wildfire will be shown on Oct 10.
- Pastor Aaron would like to do a devotional series on Creation/Earth Care.

Old Business:

- Dinners for 5 or 6, planning and scheduling will be done by the Ellens.
- Discuss changing the Constitution to allow up to $10,000 or a percentage of the annual budget, for expenditures without a congregational meeting. The ELCA National Assembly has had their constitutional review so this process can move forward.

New Business:

- Update our new Pastor on what committees do at Faith and share it with the whole church.
- The council has scheduled a day-long retreat for December 13 to review, discuss and incorporate into action planning the Synod's Listening Team report.

Next Council Meeting: October 23, 2025

Earth Stewardship Group September 2025

- Pastor Aaron joined our meeting. We were excited to learn that he has a keen interest in Earth Stewardship and Climate Change issues and has been participating in several groups that provide training and support to help address these issues in his work as a Pastor and leader.
- Season of Creation: Every year from September 1 to October 4, Lutherans join Christians all over the world to observe the Season of Creation. This year's theme is "Peace with Creation" and has been incorporated into our prayers and liturgy.
- Blessing of the Animals: Bring your animals to the church service on Sunday, October 5, for the special blessing of the animals on St. Francis Day!
- Earth Stewardship Movie Night: We will sponsor a 45 minute documentary film entitled Living With Wildfire. The film discusses the recent increases in severe wildfires throughout Washington State and explores the action steps we can take to decrease risk to our homes, neighborhoods and community. Mark your calendar for October 10 at 6:30 PM! All are welcome.
- Devotional Series – Our Kairos Moment: A Study Guide on Earth's Climate Crisis: There will be an introductory climate focused primer for this devotional series as part of the Adult Fellowship hour on Sunday Oct 26. Then, Pastor Aaron will be leading a Climate focused devotional/educational series on Friday nights November 7, 14, 21 and December 5. Mark your calendars!
- Connecting with Indigenous Cultures: Earth Stewardship is a long time core value of most indigenous cultures. On October 8, Barbara Rossing and Pastor Aaron will be going to the Colville Tribal museum near Grand Coulee as part of the P'Squosa River Connections group, in advance of Indigenous Peoples Day on October 13. Also on October 9, the movie "Fish Wars" is showing at WRI. This is an excellent film about indigenous communities working for fishing rights, leading to the Boldt Supreme Court Decision.

Next Meeting: October 22, 2025 at 6:30 in the Fellowship Hall.

Recycling information from Dawn Kranz....

It has been a number of years since Waste Management first informed its customers that only plastic bottles and jugs would be accepted in plastic recycling. After recycling most all plastic containers for many years, this has been a hard change. When I inquired about it a few years ago, they explained that plastic bottles and jugs are generally made of #1 or #2 plastic, whereas dairy product tubs, meat trays and so-on are made with #5 and other plastics that are far less compatible in recycling facilities. The USA has been working on its capacity to process all recycling rather than sending it overseas.

Stricter guidelines are making this possible. #1 and #2 plastic are the only types of plastic that are not problematic to recycle in our multi county area.

And now lately, to add to the confusion, we have #1 plastic clamshell packaging offered for our convenience. They come in many sizes, serve as doggie bags and to-go boxes, and hold everything from baked goods to snacks to charcuterie platters.

I asked the natural question: If clamshells are #1 plastic, why are they not recyclable here? Recycle Inland Northwest on behalf of Waste Management responded that “While plastic clamshells—like berry containers—are often labeled with the recycling symbol, they are not accepted in Chelan or Douglas county recycling programs. The reason is that recycling centers sort by shape, not by the number or symbol. Only plastic bottles and jugs are recyclable in Leavenworth. Clamshells are made differently, resulting in a different bulk density than bottles and jugs. They often have sticky labels, break into tiny pieces and can mix in with the wrong plastics which lowers the quality of the recycled material. To keep our recycling system efficient and effective, we ask that clamshells be placed in the garbage.”

What can we do? Can we do with less or without? Might creative alternatives become rewarding? How can we call public attention to this situation? Is there a way to alleviate it?

Pastor Aaron suggested maybe a big, fun, colorful clamshell sculpture. It could be an Earth Day display. Or if one of us could locate an out of the area facility that accepts #1 clamshells, or other #s of plastic for that matter, we could transport saved up loads of these materials, say, once a year. For anyone who has comments or ideas to add here, the Earth Stewardship Group would love to hear from you.
